

The Social Mirror

Society, or at least the larger portion of it, was present at the Yavapai club Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Harry Brisley, Mrs. E. S. Clark, and Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell were hostesses. Nearly a hundred card-playing matrons of our fashionable circle were asked. The event took place in the ball room of the club, which was very cozily arranged with card tables and divans, and bowls filled with different shades of lavender china asters in the several spaces. The beauty of the scene was enhanced by the handsome and attractive gowns of the receiving ladies and their guests.

Very soon after the hour named on the cards, the guests arrived and were conducted to the dining room, where a delicious luncheon was served. The dining room had been artistically decorated in lavender china asters and the mantle and fireplace were literally banked with the same flower. The tables were all prettily arranged with Cluny doilies and large bowls of asters.

A rare treat of the afternoon was the singing of several songs by Miss Viva Head. The game of five hundred then occupied the afternoon and it was a most pleasurable affair.

Those who thoroughly enjoyed the afternoon were Mrs. H. E. Armitage, Mrs. H. F. Ashurst, Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, Mrs. J. M. Aitken, Miss H. D. Aitken, Mrs. David Biles, Mrs. Thomas H. Bate, Mrs. Paul Burks, Mrs. A. W. Bork, Mrs. L. O. Brown, Mrs. W. D. Baker, Mrs. E. J. Bennett, Mrs. J. C. Bradbury, Mrs. H. A. Cheverton, Mrs. E. T. Collings, Mrs. B. C. Davis, Mrs. William H. Doyle, Mrs. Sims Ely, Mrs. A. W. Edwards, Mrs. W. L. Fox, Mrs. F. W. Foster, Mrs. A. C. Gilmore, Mrs. Morris Goldwater, Mrs. J. B. Girard, Mrs. Harry W. Heap, Mrs. George Norman Hoffman, Mrs. J. J. Hawkins, Mrs. O. A. Hesla, Mrs. Paul P. Hastings, Mrs. M. B. Hazeltine, Mrs. J. A. Hope, Mrs. Fred Hogue, Mrs. J. C. Herndon, Mrs. A. A. Johns, Mrs. E. A. Kastner, Mrs. C. C. Keeler, Mrs. Fred Kessler, Mrs. Nathan Levy, Mrs. Reese M. Ling, Mrs. Leslie B. Larimer, Mrs. R. N. Looney, Mrs. James R. Lowry, Mrs. William Lloyd, Mrs. George Edward Meany, Mrs. J. W. Milnes, Mrs. J. S. Merritt, Mrs. C. H. McLane, Mrs. E. H. Meek, Mrs. Thomas G. Norris, Mrs. Thomas C. Nolan, Mrs. William Nelson, Mrs. Sara Oberbeck, Mrs. D. E. Parks, Mrs. A. B. Peach, Mrs. Ralph J. Roper, Mrs. Hugo Richards, Mrs. L. G. Reymiller, Mrs. J. M. Ross, Mrs. W. W. Ross, Mrs. George C. Ruffner, Mrs. J. H. Robinson, Mrs. A. W. Robinson, Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mrs. F. O. Smith, Mrs. E. C. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mrs. A. L. Smith, Mrs. A. E. Taylor, Mrs. W. H. Timberhoff, Mrs. O. H. Tucker, Mrs. Harry M. Thomas, Mrs. J. B. Tomlinson, Mrs. E. S. Wright, Mrs. Samuel E. Wallace, Mrs. Herbert C. Shotwell, Mrs. W. S. Norvell, Mrs. J. M. Watts, Mrs. Winn, Mrs. T. C. Job, Mrs. Harry Colvig, Mrs. E. M. Sanford, Mrs. Aaron Goldberg, Mrs. Dave Goldberg, Mrs. L. A. Kehr, Mrs. D. C. Kurtz and Mrs. C. E. Yount.

Mrs. J. C. Herndon was a hostess on Friday afternoon, when she very pleasantly entertained the Friday Five Hundred club at her home on South Cortez street, when she had as her guests Mrs. Morris Goldwater, Mrs. Hugo Richards, Mrs. Richard E. Sloan, Mrs. A. W. Edwards, Mrs. J. M. Watts, Mrs. Thomas G. Norris, Mrs. O. A. Hesla and Mrs. Paul P. Hastings.

Mrs. George C. West's dinner last Monday evening was a very pretty affair, with perfectly appointed details. Everything was yellow—yellow nasturtiums formed the center piece with yellow shades on the candles. It was greatly enjoyed by Mrs. Wallace Fairbank, Mrs. Paul P. Hastings, Mrs. Leslie B. Larimer and Miss Emily Daniel.

A very pleasant meeting of the Prescott Bridge club was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas G. Norris last Tuesday afternoon, who had as her guests Mrs. A. W. Edwards, Mrs. Morris Goldwater, Mrs. William H. Doyle, Mrs. George Edward Meany, Mrs. J. J. Hawkins, Mrs. Paul P. Hastings, and Mrs. Barry Goldwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Will L. Clark, of Jerome, arrived in Prescott Friday evening and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson for a few days.

Mrs. George Colton and baby daughter of Flagstaff, have arrived in Prescott and will visit for a short time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Adams.

Miss Lila Hawkins is visiting in Walker as the guest of Mrs. A. E. Hurley.

Mrs. C. H. B. Carter, of Phoenix, is visiting in Prescott as the guest of Mrs. W. A. Drake.

Gail Gardner left Wednesday for Exeter, New Hampshire, where he will enter Phillips Academy.

Miss Jessie Jones and Miss Grace Jones of McCabe, are visiting in town as the guests of Miss Mabel Brisley.

Miss Mabel Norris has been the guest for the past week of Mrs. Orleans Longacre, Sr., at Poland.

George C. West returned home Friday evening from Topeka, Kansas, where he has been for the past ten days on railroad business.

Miss Sara W. Trego left Thursday morning for Los Angeles and Seattle, where she will spend a month.

The Misses Eleanor Sloan, Ruth Williford, Helen Leslie and Annie Wagner passed through Prescott Tuesday night from the Grand Canyon en route to St. Louis, Mo. They were compelled to return through here on account of the Bluewater dam disaster.

The Misses Theresa and Willifred Fredericks are expected to return home Tuesday.

W. H. Doyle left Tuesday morning for Los Angeles and San Francisco, where he goes to attend to some banking business.

Mrs. J. B. Hocker and daughter, Miss Mabel Hocker, have returned to their home in Phoenix after a pleasant visit here as the guests of Mrs. J. B. Tomlinson.

Floyd Allen spent the week in Prescott as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell.

J. B. Girard, of Phoenix, has been spending the week visiting with his family at the St. Michael.

Mrs. W. D. Baker has returned home from an extended visit with eastern relatives.

Mrs. Ed. S. Wright has returned from a visit with friends at Cherry Creek.

Mrs. W. S. Norvell returned this week from a trip in the east.

Mrs. Sims Ely came up from Iron Springs to attend the party yesterday and is the guest of Mrs. E. S. Clark.

TO WED MAN THAT SHE HAS NEVER SEEN

(From Sunday's Daily)
Crown King in the Bradshaw mountains in a few days will probably be the scene of a pretty marriage, and incidentally the termination of one of the most novel and romantic courtships that has taken place in this section in many years.

The principals to this matrimonial event to be are John Benny, in business at the old Tiger mine, and Miss Louisa Candia, of Torino, Italy. The latter reached Prescott on yesterday morning's train, coming from her home in that foreign land and in a pleasant manner to her friends stated why she had come so far and alone to marry the man that was selected as her companion in the journey through life hereafter. She is a fascinating young woman. She is endowed with that beauty that the young women of southern Italy are noted for and to grace her personality she is accomplished in the art of music and is vivacious in her manners.

She says the trip was one long and anxious journey, and when she learned that no train was to leave the city Sunday for the Bradshaw country, she seemed disappointed. When asked about her affianced, she smiled and informed her friends that she had never met him but produced the photo and then stated how the matchmaker worked and gave the source of the marriage that is to be celebrated.

Mr. Benny's associates in business at the Tiger here came into the play and with him was his wife, the latter being the source through which the two plighted their troth. Miss Candia is a friend of this woman and believes implicitly in her, saying that she will wed the man and with a little chuckle in her voice believed that he would likewise obey the wish of his partner's wife. Preparations are already under way to have a fitting celebration in this wedding transaction and it promises to be the greatest social event of the Bradshaws during the year.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Sept. 11.—J. W. Gano, a labor leader, was killed and his wife seriously injured when their auto was hit by a car at a crossing.

CRIMINAL TO SEND POOR HEALTH SEEKERS WEST

(From Sunday's Daily)
In the past frequent protests have been made by the people of Arizona against the practice of many eastern physicians who treat tubercular patients until their money is practically gone and then send them to this territory to become public charges. The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has now taken up the matter, according to the following article from the Toledo (Ohio) Blade of September 3:

"Cruel and inhuman practices are alleged in a statement given out yesterday by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis against the eastern doctors who persist in sending dying cases of consumption to the southwest.

"Fully 7,180 persons hopelessly diseased with tuberculosis annually come to die in the states of California, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Colorado, most of them by order of their physicians. The statement, which is based upon the testimony of well known experts, and all available statistics, shows that at least 50 per cent of those who go to the southwest every year for their health are so far advanced in their disease that they cannot hope for a cure in any climate, under any circumstances. More than this, at least 60 per cent of these advanced cases are so poor that they have not sufficient means to provide for the proper necessities of life, which means that 4,315 consumptives are either started to death or forced to accept charitable relief every year.

"It is not an uncommon thing, the association declares, for whole families who can hardly eke out a living in the east to migrate to the west in the hope of saving the life of some member of the family. In most instances the abject poverty of such cases forces them to beg or to live on a very low level. Often consumptives who cannot afford the proper traveling accommodations are found dead on the trains before reaching their destination. The resources of almost every charitable organization in the southwest are drained every year to care for cases which would be self-supporting in their eastern homes.

"It costs on an average at least $50 per month for the support of a consumptive in the southwest, including some medical attention. The national association strongly urges no one to go to this section who has not sufficient funds to care for himself at least one year, in addition to what his family might require of him during this time. It is also urged that no persons who are far advanced with tuberculosis go to so distant a climate.

"Consumption can be cured, or arrested in any section of the United States, and the percentage of cure in the east and the west is nearly the same. Any physician, therefore, who sends a person to the southwest without sufficient funds or in an advanced or dying stage of the disease, is guilty of cruelty to his patient. Renewed efforts are being made to stop this practice, and to encourage the building of small local hospitals in every city and town of the country. Attempts are also being made in southern California and in Texas to exclude indigent consumptives or to send them back to the east."

YAVAPAI APPLES OF ENORMOUS SIZE

(From Sunday's Daily)
That Arizona can not only raise fruit but that it can produce fruit which it challenges any of the other states or territories to equal, is the claim that is confidently advanced since John Duke, John Bianconi and M. J. Hickey have returned from the Duke-Bianconi ranch located on the way to Granite Dells.

They brought back with them three apples of the Ben Davis variety which weighed respectively 23, 22 and 17 ounces.

To make good the claim that apples of this size can be grown in this country, the apples have been placed on exhibition at the St. Michael.

The largest of the apples measures eleven inches in circumference.

Messrs. Duke, Bianconi and Hickey are planning to send the apples back to one of the big Missouri fairs to be entered in a competitive contest with the product from the "Show Me" state, which claims to hold the world's record for apples.

ARCHBISHOP KEANE 70 YEARS.

DUBUKE, Ia., Sept. 11.—Archbishop John Joseph Keane, who is soon to retire from his active duties as head of the Roman Catholic archdiocese of Dubuque, will be 70 years old tomorrow. The archbishop's health is reported to be considerably improved as a result of his summer vacation on the New England coast.

MURPHY LANDS JOB AS IMMIGRATION CHIEF

TUCSON, Sept. 11.—Ranking only as an inspector when he left this city a little more than a month ago for a sojourn on the coast, J. J. Murphy returned yesterday with the announcement that he has been promoted to the office of inspector in charge of this district in the immigration service. Mr. Murphy and family have been at Long Beach, Cal., for more than a month past, and it was during the vacation trip that he received the appointment.

Mr. Murphy succeeds George Webb in the position. Mr. Webb was transferred from this city about three months ago to California, where he remains in the service of the department of commerce and labor. Since Mr. Webb's departure, Mr. Murphy has been acting inspector in charge.

The appointment of Mr. Murphy to this office has created no surprise among government officials here. It was rumored at the time Webb's transfer was announced that Murphy would succeed him, but affairs with the government move slowly but deliberately and as a result his appointment was not forthcoming until a few days ago.

Those who have been associated with Mr. Murphy in his work in the southwest state that he has earned the promotion through valiant service to the department. He has been in the immigration service for six years and before coming to Tucson was stationed at points along the border. During these six years of service his record has been excellent, especially in carrying out the stipulations of the Chinese exclusion law.

The news of his appointment is received by those in the service in Arizona with a general feeling of satisfaction as it is known that he is not only capable, but is deserving of the position.

CAPTIVATED BY THE CHARMS OF ARIZONA

The Phoenix Gazette prints the following poem regarding Arizona, written by a Los Angeles man:

Evidently Arizona, fair maid, has another conquest to her credit. Name of said conquest is Edward L. Hutchinson, a Los Angeles attorney, who while making a business trip within the confines of the territory, was captivated by her numerous charms, and later broke forth in verse as a properly trained conquest should. Following is the letter which he has written the Gazette paying the way for the reception of his praiseful lay:

"Los Angeles, Sept. 7, 1909.
"Editor Gazette.

"Phoenix, Arizona.
"Dear Sir: A short time ago I had occasion to pass a few days in Arizona on legal business.

"My idea of your climate as compared with any other in America—nearly all of which I have seen—is in the inclosed lines, and I hope you will publish them.

"I have lived in Los Angeles over twenty years. I wish you could scent it; a little climate. You have it to spare. Yours truly,

"EDWARD L. HUTCHINSON."
Down in Arizona.

Oh, sweet is the song of the night
Oh, sweet is the song of the night—
As he singeth a roundelay;
And the sweetest of notes from that marvelous bird

Are the notes that ever and ever are heard
Down Arizona Way.

And sweet is the air where the sky is clear
Forever and ever and aye;
And dear is the land where the balmy air

Is ever a zephyr to maiden fair,
Down Arizona Way.

And sweet is the land where the sunshine comes
With never a flourish of trumpets and drums.

But comes and comes and comes always
And maketh all seasons a heavenly day,
Down Arizona Way.

And no matter whether I live or die—
Where body may wander or bones
may lie,
My spirit is now, and ever will be
In the valley that seemeth the fairest to me.

Down Arizona Way.
EDWARD L. HUTCHINSON.

Improvements Started on the Grand Mountain Property.

(From Sunday's Daily)
Grading was started yesterday for a hoist and a gallus frame on the property of the Grand Mountain company located between Humboldt and McCabe. F. L. Dwight, who is interested in the company, was in town yesterday to arrange for material for the improvements. He is not the party by the same name who was consulting engineer for the Humboldt smelter.

EXPERIMENT NOT A SUCCESS.

MANILA, Sept. 11.—After a year of unsuccessful experiment in maintaining order through the provincial authorities, Governor Forbes has directed the constabulary to return to duty in the provinces of Bulacan and Luzon.

TRYING TO REGAIN GOLD FROM BEACHES

(From Sunday's Daily)
Another attempt at saving gold from the black sand of the beaches is to be made in California. This time the effort is to be made on the beach sands of the Big Lagoon on the ocean shore in Humboldt county. The tract on which the sand occurs is owned by Robert D. Johnson, and has been leased by him to C. W. Fox of San Francisco and associates, says the Engineering and Mining Journal. The exact process to be used has not been described, but it is understood that the sands are to be concentrated before washing them for gold. Gold was discovered at this place as long ago as 1851, and ever since that time more or less work has been done trying to make the sands profitable. Numerous gold-saving machines have been installed and operated on the lagoon, which is a lake of brackish water about three and a half miles long by two miles wide, separated from the ocean by a sandbar.

Unlike most of the beach sands of the California coast, there is very little iron sand in this vicinity. There is, however, a large amount of low-grade auriferous sand, but the gold in it is very finely divided and difficult to have. It remains to be seen whether the present attempt will be more successful than its predecessors.

This black sand mining has always been attractive to men of little experience in mining affairs or mining machinery. All sorts of experimental machines have been tried on the beaches along the Pacific in California, but generally with indifferent success. Speaking generally, there is no profit in the business. At certain times of the year, after storms have caused the waves to effect a rough concentration of the sand, day wages may be made at the work, but at other times the beaches will not even pay "Chinese wages." Where the attempt has been made to work on a large scale, failure has been the usual result. Probably the Big Lagoon—at any rate, the Humboldt county beaches—has been the scene of more experiments in this direction than any other place in California.

DECISION IS GIVEN IN BIG MINE ACTION

(From Sunday's Daily)

A decision handed down yesterday morning by Judge Campbell in the district court in the case in Tucson of Paine-Weber & Co. against the Copper-Belle Mining Co., and James B. Riley, intervenor, which gained added prominence when Riley filed a motion as intervenor after the mining company failed to make a defense, awarded Riley judgment. The case is one of long standing and owing to the amount involved, is considered of more than ordinary significance. It was brought for the collection of $265,000 on a promissory note of the Copper Belle to Huot, Moneuse & Co. At maturity, the copper company failed to make a defense and James B. Riley, stockholder, intervened, setting up the defense as a lack of consideration. He also alleged fraud and deception on the part of the plaintiff in the transaction.

The history of the case recites that early in the life of the company, the necessary funds for its operation played out and Meneuse, then a director in the company, advanced $40,000 to relieve a mortgage and to pay the operating expenses of the company for three years. In consideration, he became possessor of 100,000 shares of the stock, which gave him control of the company. He subsequently contended that the money was a loan and got judgment. The property was ordered sold, subject to the right of redemption. It was redeemed by Riley and Moneuse and others refused to allow the redemption.

He then, as controlling stockholder, made out a promissory note to Moneuse & Co. It was subsequently assigned to the plaintiff, Paine-Weber & Co., of Boston. Yesterday a decision was reached in favor of the intervenor, which substantiates the claim of fraud and bad faith.

MOCKRIDGE ACCUSED OF THEFT OF UNIFORM

After a horseback ride of forty miles Deputy Sheriff Joe Cook yesterday overtook L. V. Mockridge at Skull Valley, placed him under arrest and gave him quarters in the county jail last evening.

Mockridge was taken into custody on a warrant sworn to by Captain Coykendall charging him with deserting Company E without turning in his uniform. He left here Sunday and was driving a team of burros en route to Phoenix. A pony was with the outfit and on that animal he returned to Prescott with the officer.

Two years ago Mockridge conducted a wood yard in this city under the name of the Granite Mountain Fuel company. He was not successful and turned his attention to the house cleaning and clothes cleaning business and again made a failure, or at least, he seemed to be unable to pay his debts.

COL. W. C. GREENE RETURNS TO TERRITORY

DOUGLAS, Sept. 7.—(Special).—Col. W. C. Greene passed through Douglas Tuesday on his return to his home in Cananea from a business trip to El Paso. The Colonel is looking much better than he was a year ago and is viewing the business world with much less apprehension than many others who got caught in the great financial slump of two years ago.

Asked about the enterprises he promoted in the state of Chihuahua he stated that they were all in a fair way now to be pushed to success as he originally planned them. The new owners, who are taking over the enterprises through the agency of Dr. Pearson have already put one thousand men to work on the railroads projected in connection with the lumber and mining enterprises of the Sierra Madre Land and Lumber Company. He regards these enterprises as capable of giving millions of profit during the next few years after they have been set in operation.

It will be remembered that one of the projected enterprises of Colonel Greene was the line of railroad along the northern border of the states of Chihuahua and Sonora for which he secured a concession from the Mexican government. This line of railroad was practically the same as that now being handled by the Cananea Consolidated Copper Company, which has a concession extending from Imuris to a connection with the Mexican Central railroad south of El Paso. Col. Greene expressed confidence in the success of this enterprise.

Asked about the condition of the cattle industry in which he is heavily interested both in Mexico and in this country, Col. Greene declared that it is in good condition, as a result of abundant rains and that the cattle owners could have no complaints to offer.

PIMA COUNTY SHOWS MUCH MORE ACTIVITY

TUCSON, Sept. 11.—Ores have been shipped to El Paso and other points from numerous mines in Pima county and at least half a dozen are now sending out pay ore for treatment. With copper at a higher price a number of shippers would renew loading ores for haul. The railroad rates, per ton, have been regarded as fair by shippers.

The present shippers are the Helvetia Copper Company, whose ores are going out at the rate of about a carload daily to Globe. The Twin Buttes company has sent to El Paso 400 tons weekly for about 18 months, and five carloads have been shipped from the Victoria to El Paso. The Total Wreck has been a shipper of silverlead ore since July 1, about 20 carloads having been shipped to El Paso up to the present time. Last week the Afro-American Mining Company, Cababi district, sent out several tons of ore to El Paso. Y. Calvallo is loading a car, which he expects to send to El Paso next week. He has shipped to Saseco.

Former shipping camps which may soon renew are the Esperanza in the Sierritas, Gould in the Tucson mountains, Mineral Hill in the Olive camp, Plumed Knight near Mineral Hill, San Xavier in the Amole district, Swastika in Amole, Tip Top in Helvetia, Copper Giant in Tucson mountains, Cerro Colorado (silver) in Arivaca, El Tiro in Silverbell, Old Hat (leatherwood) in Catalinas, Cuprite in Empire district.

The Imperial Copper Company for two years shipped 100 tons daily to Douglas smelters prior to 1898, and have for 18 months been smelting at their own plant at Saseco. J. K. Brown, several years ago shipped to the Helvetia smelter while it was operated. El Tiro may ship to Saseco this year in tonnage of concentrates.
